

New Study Abroad Themed Course for Spring 2021!

GLOBAL EXPOSURES:
Study Abroad and Global Engagement
ILC 2150

Offered by The Office of Study Abroad and the Department of Global Languages,
Cultures, & Societies in the College of Arts & Sciences

SPRING 2021 SEMESTER (15 WEEKS)

Pass/Fail Grade

1 credit

Wednesdays from 9am-9:50am

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces students to Webster's study abroad programs and the university's global network of campuses. The course builds basic academic, linguistic and practical knowledge and skills facilitating international travel, intercultural competence, and engagement with global social-cultural issues.

This course will:

1. Give you an introduction to study abroad programs
2. Prepare you for study abroad opportunities
3. Introduce you to Webster's network of international campuses
4. Introduces you to Global Studies and Language courses at Webster
5. Develop your capacity to engage with global issues
6. Expand your perception of your place in the world, from the local to global!

INSTRUCTOR(S)

Team taught by faculty in the Department of Global Languages, Cultures, & Societies and staff in the Office of Study Abroad.

COURSE MODALITY

WebNet-Class meets at home. This course will be taught fully synchronous, but remote. The class will meet for the full scheduled time via conferencing technology. The instructors will utilize Zoom for synchronous meetings and use WorldClassRoom (Canvas) to deliver assignments, quizzes, and additional content.

WHY SIGN UP

Global Exposures is a great first step for those students interested in finding out more about study abroad opportunities at Webster and preparing for the experience! It will be a fun, thought-provoking course that will allow you to engage with Webster's global network in a range of ways. There is still time to register for Spring.

For More Information Contact:

Office of Study Abroad
Webster University
314-968-6988
worldview@webster.edu

Or

Department of Global Languages,
Cultures, and Societies
Webster University
314-968-7047